

Content

1	Introduction	7
2	The AUIPK research project	10
2.1	AUIPK as a cooperative project	11
2.2	Procedure	11
2.3	Methodology	12
2.4	Previous projects in relation to AUIPK	12
3	Social space mapping and networking	14
3.1	Principles of networking	14
3.2	Significance of social space-oriented networking	15
3.2.1	Prerequisite for networking: Social space mapping	15
3.2.2	Continuous networking	16
3.3	The significance of everyday systems for AUIPK	17
3.3.1	Players within the outpatient care infrastructure	17
3.3.2	Care-giving relatives	18
3.3.3	Other players in the provision of care to those in need	19
3.4	Social space mapping and networking activities in disaster control: Magdeburg as a model region	21
3.4.1	Performing social space mapping, taking Magdeburg as an example	21
3.4.2	Networking in Magdeburg: Invitation to the “round table”	22
4	Preserving the home care situation	23
4.1	Reasons for maintaining outpatient care infrastructures	23
4.2	Possible support measures to strengthen outpatient care infrastructures: The role of disaster control	24
4.3	Disaster control as mediator and organiser: Maintaining home care, taking the example of the snowfall in Bavaria in 2019	25
5	Transfer criteria: From the home to temporary centralised accommodation	27
6	The “Crisis Unit for Outpatient Care” pilot concept	30
6.1	Why? “Crisis Unit for Outpatient Care”: Operational experiences	30
6.2	The structure of the “Crisis Unit for Outpatient Care” is based on the traditional structures of a care facility	33

7 Recommendations for action	36
7.1 For the needs-based care of those in need: Linking together individual, organisational, and structural levels	36
7.2 For the needs-based care of care-dependent people: Reinforcing disaster control resources	37
7.2.1 Networking within the social space	38
7.2.2 Identifying and incorporating skills: addressing the heterogeneous support requirements of affected care-dependent people in a needs-based manner	40
8 Conclusion and outlook	43
9 References	44
10 List of Figures and Tables	46
11 For quick readers	47
Also available in English:	48